Employees of the Department of Agriculture from all parts of the state are meeting in Tallahassee this week for another annual business conference. We'll hear reports from our various division directors on progress made during the pa year and projects planned for the future. Special activities and pro-grams of each division will be the topics for panel discussions when divisional personnel attend their own meeting during the confer-

One of the biggest problems in planning such a gathering is to find a single hall large enough to accommodate all of our people. We accommodate all of our people. We expanded greatly when our reorganization became effective in January, 1961 and four agencies with personnel of 500 were blanketed into the department. We now number about 1, 200 full-time regulations. ular employees in nine divisions.

I'm mighty proud of the manner n which our enlarged department has functioned in the past year. It took a while to adjust to the expansion during 1961. But by the time 1962 rolled around, we had a smooth running organization and there had been no interruption in the many services we perform for agriculture and its associated business, and for protection of con-sumers throughout the state.

Like other agencies of state confronted each year with an in-creasing work load to fulfill the responsibilities of enforcing cer-tain laws. Much of this pressure stems from Florida's rapid growth in population.

As more families establish homes, more food stores are open-ed to serve them. New filling sta-tions are built. More businesses using weighing and measuring de-vices are opened. More meat pro-cessing establishments appear New businesses and new industries attract more people and the pansion—and more places which our inspectors must visit.

In the meantime, Florida's pro-duction of agricultural commodities of many kinds is increasing-vegetables, livestock, poultry and eggs, citrus, etc.—and, the use of fertilizers, feeds and peaticides is growing. The work load of our lab-oratories in analyzing samples of many kinds, from gasoline to practically every kind of food, has in-creased and their facilities have been expanded.

These trends are due to continue, and here's why: Florida's population—the number of people living in the state, not our tourist visitors—is due to gain another visitors—is due to gain another 45 per cent in this decade. By 1970, according to the U. S. Census Bureau, it will be 7½ million. It's about 4¼ million now.

about 4% million now.
That percentage rate of growth is equalled by the forecasts for Arizona and Alaska. Nevade's is one point higher at 46 per cent. But, all three of these states will have total populations far below that of Florids. It often numbers of new Florida. In total number of new residents expected by 1970 (the estimate is about 2,330,000), Flor-ida is about even with New York state, but California's gain will b more than both combined.

Technological and scientific pro gress will be continuing in years ahead. They, too, will add to the department's work load. Ex-amples of development in recent years are the widespread adoption of hydraulic brakes for automotive vehicles and the sharp rise in use of pesticides, both domestic and mercial.

Testing brake fluids offered fo sale in Florida is one of our de-partment activities which started only three years ago. We ride herd esticides (1) to insure prop labeling with adequate warning to protect the user, and (2) to preent any food products with resi-ues dangerous to health from getting into consumer channels.

New food products are continu-usly coming on the market. In the offing are such things as frozen milk concentrate, instant cheese and even synthetic vegetable Every new food development will require investigation and supervis-ion to protect the consuming public.

As new livestock diseases and pests appear, the Division mal Industry must be alert to cope with them. The same is true of the Division of Plant Industry must be alert to cope with them. The same is true of the Division of Plant Industry when there's a threat to any of our crops. So our annual business conference is an important event. A per-iodic review of past and present activities can help to prepare us for what the future holds

v 3³/₄ interest on U.S. Savings Bonds

The Treasury explains why the new ones you buy and the ones you own now are better than ever

Q: How does the new 33/4% interest rate benefit me?

A: With Series E Bonds, the rate turns $18.75 into $25.00 fourteen months faster than the old rate. Your savings increase faster, because your Bonds mature in just 7 years, 9 months.

mature in just 7 years, 9 months.

With Series H Bonds, the 10-year maturity period stays the same but more interest is paid you each six months. With both E and H Bonds the new rate works out to 224% for the first year and a half; then a guaranteed 4% each year to maturity.

- Q: When did the new rate become effective?
- A: June 1, 1959.

- Q: Does the new rate change the Bonds I bought be-
- fore june 1, 1959?

 A: All older E and H Bonds pay more now—an extra

 ## from now on, when held to maturity. The increase takes effect in the first full interest period
 after June 1.
- Q: Will the Bonds I own automatically earn their new
- A Yes. You don't need to do a thing—just hold on to your Bonds.
- Q: When my B Bonds mature, will they keep on earn-
- ing interest? ke Yes. An automatic 10 year extension privilege went hato effect stong with the new interest rate. This means your E Bonds will automatically keep earn-ing interest after maturity.
- Q: With the new interest rate, should I cash in my old
- Bonds and buy new ones?

 As No. The automatic 14% increase makes it unnecessary—and in almost every ones it as to your advantage to retain your present Bonds.

 G: How are series H Bonds different from series B
- Bonds?
- At The chief difference is this: You buy H Bonds at full face value and the interest is paid by Treasury check every six months for the life of the Bond. You buy E Bonds at 75% of face value and the interest accumulates to maturity. H Bonds provide income for living expenses, while E Bonds build a nest egg for the future. That's why many retired people hold H Bonds and families saving for, say, a child's education, buy E Bonds.

- Q: In what denominations can I buy series E and series
- H Bonds? A: Bonds: $25 (cost $18.75), $50 (cost $37.50), $100 (cost $75.00), $200 (cost $150.00), $500 (cost $375.00), $1,000 (cost $750.00), $1,000 (cost $750.00).

 H Bonds: $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. They are priced at face value.
- Q: How safe are U.S. Savings Bonds?
- At Savings Bonds are an absolutely riskless way to save. The United States Government guarantees the each value of your Bonds will not drop, that it can only grow.
- Q: What if my Bonds should be lost, stolen or destroyed?
- A: You can't lose. Every Bond purchased is recorded by the Treasury. If anything happens to your Bonds they are replaced—free.
- Q: Where can I buy Bonds?
- Buy E Bonds at any bank—it takes only a few min-thes. Buy them automatically through the Payroll Savings Pam where you work. This Plan means you can have any amount you name automatically de-ducted every paydey. The Bonds you buy by installments are delivered to you automatically, too. Your bank will take your order for H Bonds.
- Q: How do I help strengthen America's peace power when I buy U.S. Savings Bonds?
- At Peace costs money—money for military strength and for science. And money saved by indi. "3-rals helps keep our economy sound.

1964 Is Deadline, For New Turnpike

TAMPA—The Florida Turnpike Authority, has announced that the 155-mile extension of the present Sunshine State Parkway will be completed and ready for public use no later than Jan. 1, 1964.

Completion of the toll road extension will establish a 264-milelong turnpike extending from Miami northward to Wildwood in Central Florida. In addition to the turnpike, Interstate 75 is scheduled for completion at the same time. This road will run from Wildwood to the Georgia state line.

This new concept of limited access highways, states the turnpike authority, will benefit the movement of products and people, papticularly tourists, who will be unhampered in the free flow of traffic. They have also predicted shifts in population center and industrial areas as a result of the new highway system.

"Today we need a nation of Minute Men.... citizens who regard the preservation of freedom as a basic purpose of their daily life...."

-JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

10 days after his inauguration as the 35th President of the United States.

Twenty years ago, in the dark, uneasy days before Pearl Harbor, the Minute Man of Concord, timeless symbol of our Nation's determination to defend its freedom, emerged as the emblem of the U. S. Savings Bonds Program. When war came, the Minute Man became the rallying force behind the huge and overwhelmingly successful effort to back our fighting men with War Bonds.

In this, the 20th anniversary year of Savings Bonds, the Minute Man of Concord calls all Americans to an unremitting effort to help preserve our peace and freedom, threatened by forces more powerful and resourceful than those we faced in 1941. Though this effort will take many forms, one way open to all is the continued investment in Shares in America, U. S. Savings Bonds, by "citizens who regard the preservation of freedom as a basic purpose of their daily life."
